February 10, 2023

The Laboratory Schools' mission is to provide pre-service teacher education, research, exemplary teaching and learning, and service to the profession, all built on our foundation of excellence in education theory and practice. Today is dedicated to building relationships to ensure this reality.

9:00-9:15

Welcome & Metcalf FAQ

Meet Metcalf's principal, Dr. Jason Surian, and assistant principal, Megan McMullen, as they highlight Metcalf's programs, interests, and how the school is changing.

What have you always wondered? How can Metcalf better serve CoE faculty and students?

9:15-10:00

Design Thinking

Participate in a group discussion hosted by Dr. Robyn Seglem and Kristi Sutter on Design Thinking in education. The group will also tour the two laboratory school Makerspace classrooms.

What does design thinking look like in a K-8 environment?

10:00-10:45

Redbox Challenge

This challenge is designed to develop ideas to be pitched to the Lab School and COE communities. Take advantage of the opportunity to develop an idea that can lead to real change in schools.

Are there aspects of education you would like to transform? Do you see areas for innovation?

11:00-11:45

School Tour & Classroom Visits

Join in a guided tour of Metcalf, stop in classrooms for informal visits, or both!

A map and guide will be provided so you know what to expect in each classroom.

12:00-1:00

Moe's Catered Lunch & Research Opportunities Panel

Enjoy a catered lunch with us and discuss Metcalf's research interests with Mandy Stalets and the panel.

Are you interested in finding a home for your research? Or interested in learning what is on the minds of practitioners?

1:00-2:00
